

Professor Brawn Cafe

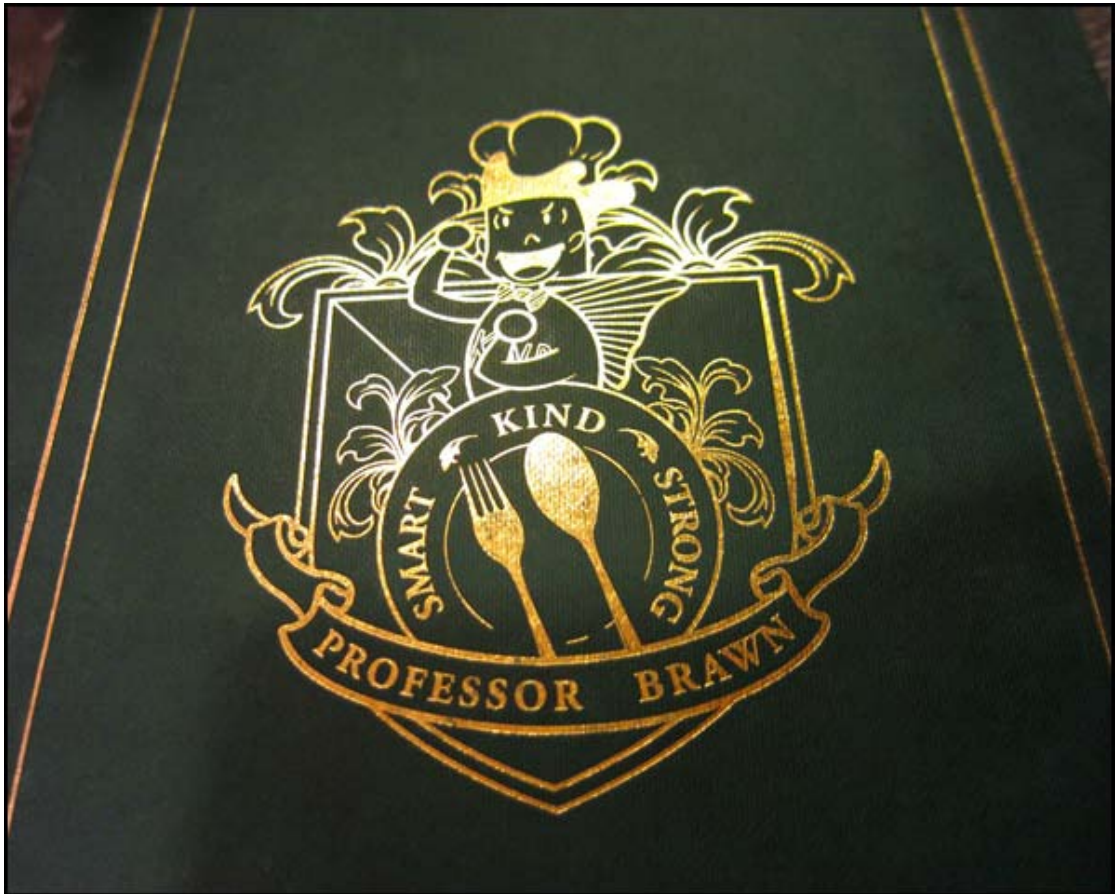

Sep. 29th, 2012 at 9:58 PM

Today I met some friends before to visit a dear friend at the hospital. So before heading down, we had some time to spare so we grabbed dessert at Professor Brawn Cafe at Velocity. I've walked pass this shop countless of times and the interesting decor has always attracted me and I made note that I have to try this place one day. What's interesting about this place is that they have a social mission, which is to empower the downtrodden of society. Special needs people are given employment opportunities here. It's so comforting to know that there are still such heartwarming around. I was shocked to find that they had a selection of main courses. Such as fish&chips and chicken chop. I figured they'll only specialize only in desserts and drinks. They even have very affordable set lunches which include a drink, main course and dessert for less than $20!

Now, that's a reason to go back (:

It looks like a library from a Harry Potter film haha

Understanding how this guy can get 21/25 for Economics --"

Tough like hehe

You can really see the stark difference between someone who goes to the gym and someone who doesn't even know what exercising means haha!

These books on the shelves are actually menus!
So pretty! (:

Root Beer Float!

Orea Cheesecake $4.90

Hehe, picture time (:

I had the waffle and ice cream $6.90

The ice cream was really good, it's well frozen, not like those that melts easily. The waffle was well toasted and was a perfect combination with the cookies and cream ice-cream (:
