Professor Brawn Cafe

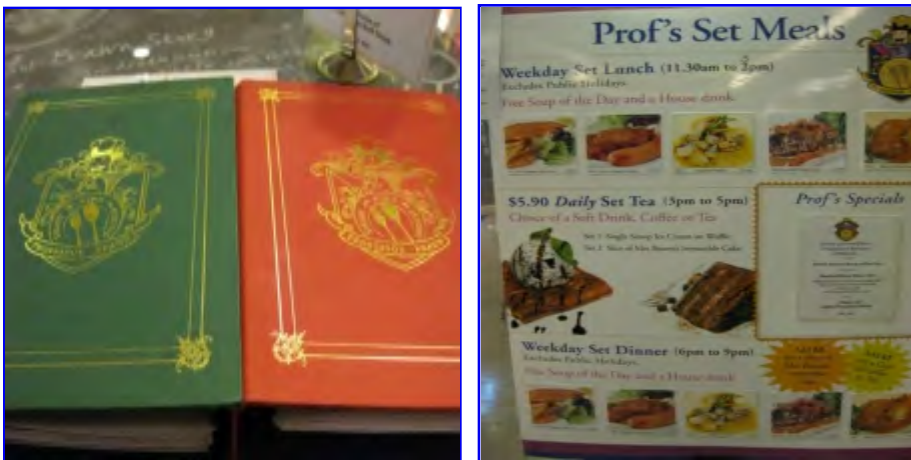

I came to know Professor Brawn cafe through eat omy. This cafe is founded by parents & friends who want to make a difference to the special needs of the community.

The cafe is located at the alfresco area where mingles used to be. Their mission is to provide good & affordable foods by an inclusive workforce comprising people of different abilities, ages & socio-economic background.

I feel that the cafe is very well-decorated, with chalk scribbles on the walls and pictures. It is very colourful and eye-catching.

The menu is printed in a form of a diary. They have daily set lunch from $12.90++ (choose from 5 sets) and specials of the week. There is also an ice-cream parlour which you can get ice-cream.

I decided to get the Set lunch – Weekly specials as it is quite affordable for $21.90++. The set comprises Pan-grill black cod miso, a soup of the day and a drink.

Pan-grill Black Cod Miso

The fish took about 20 mins to arrive. I was a little taken aback by the huge portion that is served. A huge fillet of cod fish marinated with sweet black miso and pan-grilled. I have requested to omit the clam chowder soup since I do not like it and replaced it with more asparagus.

The fish is over-grilled, resulting the meat to be a little tough but the black miso marinade is quite good, a little salty and sweet (mirin). They served it with 8 fat spears of asparagus, nicely grilled.

Another shot of the Pan-grilled Black Miso Cod

I am not a fan of potatoes but the mashed sweet potatoes that is served together with the fish is actually not bad. The sweet potato is mashed and I had it with some salt and pepper. I didn't realised that I finished the whole portion!

For the choice of beverage, I just had a cup of green tea. The ice-cream flavours looks interesting. But I'm simply too full after finishing that plate of mashed sweet potatoes, I shall leave it to the next visit.

The service here is not very professional as the servers are just students, probably from pathlight school. Anyway, I didn't care as long as the food is good.
